Downloaded from UvA-DARE, the institutional repository of the University of Amsterdam (UvA) http://dare.uva.nl/document/67479

File ID	67479
Filename	Table of Contents

SOURCE (OR PART OF THE FOLLOWING SOURCE):

Type	Dissertation
Title	Broken limbs, broken lives: Ethnography of a hospital ward in Bangladesh
Author	S Zaman
Faculty	Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences
Year	2003
Pages	240

FULL BIBLIOGRAPHIC DETAILS:
http://dare.uva.nl/record/131413

Copyright

It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other then for strictly personal, individual use.

UvA-DARE is a service provided by the library of the University of Amsterdam (http://dare.uva.nl)

Table of Contents

Summary		ix
Samenvatting (Dutch summary)		xii
Acknowledgements		xv
I	INTRODUCTION: SETTING THE SCENE	1
	Description of chapters	5
	Hospital as a subject of research	5
	Hospital in history	6
	Hospital as bureaucratic organization	9
	Hospital ethnography	11
	Cultural studies of biomedicine and hospital	12
	Goal of the research	14
II	THE ETHNOGRAPHY
	The human instrument	17
	Describing people in their natural setting	19
	Gaining access	20
	Taking role	22
	Data collection techniques	23
	Native among the natives	26
	Anthropology at home	26
	Being a doctor	27
	Being a Bangladeshi	30
	Naïve among the natives?	32
III	BANGLADESH: A LAND OF HOPE AND DESPAIR	33
	Political history	33
	Early history	33
	British period	34
	Pakistan period	35
	Birth of Bangladesh	35
	After independence	35
	Society and people	37
	Ethnicity, language, religion	37
	Living	38
	Family and kinship	40
	Status of women	41
	Social hierarchy	41
	Health	42
	Health services	42
	Health status of the people	44
	Achievements	45

Education 45
Economy 47

IV RESEARCH SETTING: THE HOSPITAL 49

Location 49
Present Facilities 49
A tour of the hospital 51
Ward geography 52
A day in the ward 54
Morning shift 54
Evening shift 56
Night shift 57

V PATIENTS: LOST IN THE LABYRINTH 58

About the casualties 59
Type of casualties 59
Causes of casualties 60
Stories behind the casualties 61
The patients' profiles 62
Gender 62
Age 63
Occupation 63
Education 63
The uncertainties of the patient 64
Which way to go, whom to ask? 64
A strange unfamiliar world 66
Who is what? 67
What is happening with my leg? 68
I am ruined, how I am going to cope? 69
Longest days 71
Loss of privacy and self-dignity 73
The horror of operation theatre 76
But I am happy 78
Discharge 79
An uneaten hilsha fish 80
Summary and discussion 81

VI RELATIVES: SILENT SAVIOURS 84

Who are they? 85
Relationship 85
Gender 85
Age 85
Occupation 85
Performing all the crucial aids 86
The 'Necessary evil' 88
Day routine of the relatives 90
Being in the kingdom of sick 92

Summary and discussion 94

VII WARD BOYS, CLEANERS, GATEKEEPERS: INFLUENTIAL INFERIORS 98

The small jobs 99
Baksees 101
Arm of the boss 102
A different story 103
An evil network 104
Hand in hand 106
Hearing them speak 107
Summary and discussion 109

VIII NURSES: LADIES WITHOUT LAMPS 113

The white sharis 114
Registers, files, forceps 115
Little touches with the patients 118
We are left alone to handle the public 120
Doctors are boss, but... 122
Not a glamour girl 124
Summary and discussion 125

IX DOCTORS : PRIDE AND PREJUDICES 130

The doctors on duty 131
The round: Climax of the drama 132
Nasta: A ritual for group solidarity 135
'Who wants to give the incision?' 140
No smile for the patients 143
Inventiveness in medical practice 146
The frustrated voices 148
Summary and discussion 152

X THE HOSPITAL: MIRROR OF SOCIETY 157

Generalized poverty 157
Social hierarchy 160
Value of family 165
Prevalence of violence 167
Invisibility of women 170
Dwindling public morality 172
Inventiveness 176

XI CONCLUSION: BROKEN LIMBS, BROKEN LIVES 178

EPILOGUE 184

Glossary of local terms 185
List of abbreviations 187
Annex 1: Maps 188
Annex 2: Photographs 192
References 196