ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Various people and institutions were indispensable for the completion of this dissertation. Professor Herman A.G. Brijder stimulated my first interest in Attic late black-figure vase painting, initially by providing the opportunity of working on the late cups for the CVA Amsterdam 2, later by suggesting the Theseus Painter as a subject of study. He also patiently corrected and commented on various drafts of this study.

I also wish to thank the Agora Excavations, Athens; Allard Pierson Museum, Amsterdam; Archaeological Museum, Thebes; Ashmolean Museum, Oxford; British Museum, London; British School, Athens; Fitzwilliam Museum, Cambridge; Museo Archeologico Nazionale, Naples; Museo Archeologico Nazionale, Taranto; Museo Archeologico Provinciale, Salerno; Museo Civico Archeologico, Bologna; Museum of Cycladic and Archaic Art, Athens; National Archaeological Museum, Madrid; National Museum, Athens; National Museum, Copenhagen; Universiteitsmuseum, Utrecht; Dr. A.N. Malagardis, Paris; Prof. I. Scheibler, Krefeld; Dr. T. Mannack, Beazley Archive Pottery Database.

Additional financial support for this study was provided by the Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research (NWO) and the Allard Pierson Foundation, which enabled me to study vases in various collections, visit several libraries, and improve the English of the text. The English text was meticulously corrected by Vincent Tosto, who also gave many helpful suggestions with regard to the content. The drawings are by the author.

Finally, I wish to thank my family, friends and fellow PhD students for their invaluable support and never-ending patience during the past years. Without them, I would never have been able to finish this dissertation.
