APPENDIX D THE QUESTIONNAIRE

This appendix contains a translation of the full questionnaire used in the survey. The Dutch text is translated fairly literally. This does not provide a questionnaire which reads as nicely in English as in Dutch. It does, however, give a good impression of the meaning of the terms used in the questions. As the wording is especially important when asking possibly sensitive questions, such a literal translation is to be preferred.

The survey was held using portable PC's. The poll-takers read the questions to the respondents from screen and typed the answers in immediately. Some questions also contain directions for the poll-takers; these are printed in capitals between < brackets >. For some questions 'showcards' were used in addition to the screen questions. The showcards contain information with respect to the question posed; this enables respondents to both listen to and look at the relevant information. Most showcards are not printed here, as they contain only the possible answers, which are already printed with the question. Exceptions are cards 9 (work force) and A10 (employers' social security contributions; numbers as in questionnaire). These showcards are printed at the end of the questionnaire.

101. Good---, I am --- from research agency Inter/View in Amsterdam. I would like to talk about the way your company selects personnel. For that purpose I would first like to ask some questions about the company itself. In these questions the term 'your company' refers to this establishment. After these general questions I would like to go into the selection of lower skilled personnel. The term lower skilled personnel refers to persons having no more than a junior secondary education.
111. In the first place I would like to ask you whether this company is independent, or a daughter company, or the head office of a larger company?
- 1) independent
 - 2) daughter company
 - 3) head office of a company with other establishments
 - 4) other (SPECIFY)

121. Could you tell me to which economic sector your establishment belongs?
< READ OUT IF NECESSARY >

- 1) agriculture and fishery
- 2) mining
- 3) (manufacturing) industry
- 4) production and distribution of electricity, gas, water etc.
- 5) construction
- 6) trade, hotels, restaurants, cafes and repairs
- 7) traffic, transport and communication
- 8) banking, insurance and commercial services
- 9) other services
- 10) (- don't know -)
- 11) (- no answer -)

Questions 122/129 (further specification) depend on the answer to question 121

141. Since when does this establishment exist?
