ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Of the many people who have helped me to make this book possible, I am most grateful to Robert Kloosterman, my promoter, who provided me with inspiring intellectual guidance, an encouraging attitude, and very supportive and generous supervision, peppered with great music tips along the way. It has been a great pleasure working with him.

From Space and Economy to Geographies of Globalisation, colleagues in the research groups I have been part of have also provided me with a stimulating and encouraging working environment. I am particularly grateful to Michaël Deinema, Ewald Engelen, James Sidaway for inspiring discussions and advice. I also want to thank Joni Hayen, Tom Pauws, Ate Poorthuis for their excellent research assistance. Outside of the University of Amsterdam, I had many fruitful exchanges with fellow researchers at the Nethur Graduate School and at the International Migration, Integration, and Social Cohesion (IMISCOE) Research Network workshops I took part in. To my co-authors, Pierrick Calenge, Ludovic Halbert and Karin Pfeffer, I am greatly indebted for very enriching collaborations. Finally, I thank Isabelle Schwarz and Tsveta Andreeva at the European Cultural Foundation for encouraging me in the pursuit of my research interests.

When I look back at the past few years, my research is tied in with happy memories shared with many lovely people I met at the UvA: Rogier, Michaël and Tiziana and our dancing session at Korsakoff, girls' night in de Indische Buurt with Inge and Simea, moshing with Stella and Arka at the Melkweg, Bart who taught me the meaning of the word gezellig, Manuel and the NY in one day tour, Perry (aka PJ) and his hilarious impersonations, celebrating my birthday with my 'almost twin' Hebe, Mariangela and our 'surviving Dutch food and coffee' crisis sessions, celebrating Queen's Day along the canals with Toni and Albert, escaping the howling dogs at a conference in Istanbul with Joni and Veronica, and finally all the lovely dinners and laughter shared in the great company of Marcel V., Thomas and Lygia.

Over the years, I have also come to see the up side of the 'flexible workspace' revolution: Anna L., Bart S., Michaël, Monika, Merijn, Pascal, Robert M., Sylvia and Tineke, it has been great sharing an office with you! Other fellow PhDs and colleagues have also helped make the UvA a very friendly place: thanks to Anita, Anna G., Annika, Aslan, Bas, Brooke, Edith de Meester, Edith van Ewijk Els, Emma, Federico, Fenne, Koen, Marco, Marjolein, Melika, Mendel, Nadav, Robert R., Rodrigo, Sebastian, Stan, Volkan, and Wouter. I also want to thank Puikang, Marianne, Guida, Gert and Barbara for their support.

Special thank yous go out to Jurek, without whom this great adventure would not have started in the first place, to Misha, for keeping me company during those cold winter weekends at the office, to Caroline, for giving me a home away from home during fieldwork in Paris, for her lovely cover artwork, and for always being close in spite of the distance, to Marcus for being such a star and working his magic on the cover, to Olivia for being so sweet, and to Franci and Karin, two absolutely wonderful people whose generosity and support have been invaluable to me along the way.

Finally, I thank my family for their support and trust in me, and Marcel for his unwavering optimism and infinite patience which kept me going when the thesis got the better of me.
